1. Compatibility is determined by LED load operation. LED load operates without any undesirable flashing, flickering, or audible noise.
2. Keystone does not make any guarantees of electrical performance or lifetime for products that are not manufactured by Keystone.
3. Compatibility testing is performed with specific product date codes and is for reference only. Please contact Keystone for more information on date code of products tested.
4. Product compatibility is not related to UL testing.
5. All data subject to change.
